

Pradhan Mantri Arogya Mitra (PMAM) Training

PMAM is the first contact point for patients in Ayushman empanelled hospitals and is popularly considered the backbone of the scheme. Arogya Mitra usually works as the bridge between the patient and the EHCP, and helps to complete necessary formalities from admission to discharge as well as submitting final claims of the patient. Recognizing their importance for the smooth operationalization of AB-PMJAY in the state, National Health Authority has collaborated with the Pradhan Mantri Kausal Kendra - an initiative implemented by NSDC, Ministry of Skill Development and Entrepreneurship, Government of India to provide training to the PMAMs in Uttar Pradesh. PMKK has scheduled training of the PMAMs in the entire state. So far, Arogya Mitras of 10 districts have been trained while remaining districts are to be covered in due course of time. Here are the glimpses of the trainings organized at different districts of Uttar Pradesh.

Training of Trainers (TOTs)

Training of Trainers (TOT) is a professional learning process for qualified trainers to provide training and capacity-building assistance for evidence-based program implementation. In addition to the PMAM training, Pradhan Mantri Kausal Kendra has also engaged with NHA and SHA-UP in preparing trainers who further can train other trainers, who can then coach the PMAMs in different districts.

Hospital Audits and Anti Fraud Activities

SACHS is committed to providing hassle-free transparent services under AB-PMJAY in Uttar Pradesh. On the basis of field reports and suggestions from the NHA, we are now monitoring all hospitals' performance through a series of rigorous steps. We have developed a trigger-based system which helps us keep an eye on all the activities of EHCPs. In this regard, on the basis of field reports we have also audited several hospitals of the state involved in ambiguous activities and have taken suitable punitive actions through show-cause notices and de-empanelment of 3 hospitals.

LETTER FROM THE CEO

Mrs. Sangeeta Singh
CEO, SACHS

Dear Readers,

I am happy to share the progress of Ayushman Bharat Jan Arogya Yojna for the month of April. So far, the scheme is taking lead in enhancing access to quality healthcare and has enabled over 90,000 beneficiaries in seeking treatment for their various ailments in Uttar Pradesh. After the successful implementation of the scheme, we are now actively monitoring the operating models followed by empanelled hospitals and other stakeholders of the scheme. We are reviewing the district-wise performance and collecting review/feedback from the stakeholders to make its services easily accessible and transparent.

Since the scheme's implementation picked up speed, our attention shifted towards audit and based on feedback received, we noticed that there are cases that may be come under the ambit of 'fraud' or 'potential fraud' activities. This prompted us to take strong disciplinary action against stakeholders involved in unscrupulous practices. We are actively conducting hospital/beneficiary/field and other relevant audits to identify gaps in fool-proof delivery of service, and keep an eye on such stakeholders creating uneasiness to the beneficiaries. Wherever a deficiency in service is identified, we are conducting trainings and sending advisories in addition to punitive actions for deliberate issues.

We are continuously working on the challenges arising in implementation and putting forth our best efforts to provide quality health care to all irrespective of caste-class-region. Wish you all a healthy and prosperous time ahead.

Thank you.

Singh

Hospitals in Focus

King George Medical University (KGMU)

King George Medical University is one of the biggest and most reputed medical universities of the state which was empanelled soon after the launch of the AB-PMJAY. Its enthusiasm is conspicuous in its active participation in all the program activities organized at state level. One of its distinctive practices is its appointment of separate Arogya Mitras in all the medical/surgical departments. So far, it has treated over 1000 AB-PMJAY beneficiaries successfully for their various secondary and tertiary ailments. Among other public hospitals of the state, it remains the best performing health care provider with the highest amount of claims so far under the scheme. KGMU has emerged as a guiding institute for other empanelled health care providers under the scheme in Uttar Pradesh.

R.M.L. Combined Hospital

Dr. Ram Manohar Lohia Combined Hospital, Gombi Nagar, Lucknow started its journey with Pradhan Mantri Jan Arogya Yojana only a few days after the launch of the scheme, across specialties such as Surgery, Medicine, Orthopedics, ENT, Eye, Pediatrics and Obstetrics and Gynecology. So far, the hospital has provided surgical/medical treatment to over 400 AB-PMJAY beneficiaries. The entire Medical Team, Nurses, Pradhan Mantri Arogya Mitras (PMAM) and other hospital staff has been tremendously active and enthusiastic towards providing healthcare treatment towards all Ayushman patients.

Success Story

Krishna – a 10 year old boy of Deoria district was born with a congenital heart defect. He has been suffered from severe pain over the years as well as a threat to his life because of his congenital heart problem. His parents consulted several doctors who said that Krishna needs to be operated for Intracardiac Repair for Tetralogy of Fallot which is an expensive procedure. Krishna's parents had hardly any resources to afford the treatment expenditure. Meanwhile, Krishna's father got to know that he is a AB-PMJAY beneficiary. The family reached out to Shri Satya Sai Sanjeevani Hospital of Palwal, Haryana for Krishna's treatment, and there he underwent a life saving complicated & expensive surgery free of cost.
